Fayette County Collision Kills 8

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP)—Eight persons—all the occupants of two cars—died instantly late Thursday in a terrific head-on collision
that ranks as one of the worst in Ohio's traffic history.

The crash occurred on a slight curve of Ohio 41, 16 miles north of here and near the Fayette-Madison county line.

Four young men, residents of nearby Jeffersonville, in one car and four elderly residents of Wilmington were the victims.
Impact of the crash was heard
at a great distance, authorities said, and must have come without warning to either driver.

The victims were identified as Robert Larry Johnson, 20, driver of one of the cars, and his passengers, George Stodard, 18, Kenneth Bliss Ellison, 19, and Richard Wright, 20;
John Frank Vandervort, 70, the other driver, and his wife, Marie, 68; Nicholas W. Vander-vort, 72, and wife, Mary, 65.

Vandervort's hands were still on the steering wheel of the car
after workers of a wrecking crew, using cutting torches and tangled the wreckage to remove the bodies several hours after the crash. The accident happened at 10:20 p.m. investigating officers said.

Officers said there were no
skid marks on the road, indicating the collision came without warning.

A preliminary investigation,
they said, indicated the northbound car carrying the four young men had crossed over into the southbound lane.

Vandervort and his party had been visiting relatives in South Solon, Madison County, and were returning to Wilmington.

The Highway Patrol said that since it began keeping records
many years ago, there had been only five other similar traffic crashes which took as many or more lives. It was the worst smashup of the year.

Ten persons were killed in Ottawa County, on Ohio 51, in a smashup July 31, 1963, and eight persons were killed in a Colum-biana County accident, on Ohio 7, on Oct. 2, 1963, among the more recent serious traffic accidents.

Bodies of the victims were taken to nearby funeral homes.

22 Are Killed In 24 Hours

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) —
Ohio has experienced another tragic 24 hours in which accidental deaths surpass the usual large number of weekend fatalities.

In the past 24 hours at least 22
persons have died accidental deaths, and at least 17 of these in traffic accidents.

The list of traffic fatalities include eight persons killed in a head-on collision north of Washington Court House late Thursday. Other traffic fatalities were scattered about the state.
In the non-traffic fatalities, a mother and her young daughter drowned in the Ohio River; a man drowned in Lake Erie and two boys were killed when struck by a freight train.

DAYS GONE BY — This is how the famed Logan Elm looked before time and the elements caught up with the historical landmark. Hundreds of families would visit the park on weekends to see the famous tree. In recent years all that existed of the towering elm was a single-branch.
Today the tree has been declared "dead" by the Ohio Historical Society.

A $1,220 STEER — Joan Enoch's home grown grand champion steer was purchased for the Red Rose Farm Service by Dudley Carpenter last night at a record price of $1.22 per pound. The sale was conducted by the Bowling Stock Yards.

Record Price Paid at Fair For Champion Enoch Steer

A record breaking price was paid for Joan Enoch's grand champion steer last night at the 4-H fair cattle sale at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

Dudley Carpenter, bidding
for the Red Rose Farm Service, paid $1.22 per pound for the 1,000 pound hereford steer.

Carpenter was pushed to the highest price ever paid for a grand champion steer here by John Fissell, who was bidding for Scioto Downs. Joan's steer was from her father's herd and bred and raised on the farm.
She will receive a check for $1-220.

The Red Rose Farm Service
purchased a total of seven steers
in the sale, paying an average price of $43.83 per hundred-weight.

THE RESERVE champion
animal, fed and shown by Sandy Perrill, went to the Fetherolf Packing Company of Laurelville
at a price of $39 per hundred-
weight.

The total sale last night
amounted to $41,263.50. There were 145 steers entered.

The average price paid for the beef steers was $29.92 per hundred while the lowest price in the sale was $25.

In comparison, the top price
at the Bowling Stockyards' Wednesday auction was $24-30.

The bulk of the support of the sale came from local business establishments.
Pickaway Grain and the Atlanta Grain purchased the largest number of head. Each company bought 11 steers with the Pickaway Grain paying an average price of $28.84 per hundred while Atlanta Grain paid an average of $28.07.

BOWLING Stock Yards purchased ten head at the sale, the Citizens Bank of Ashville con-

Speaking of pictures — when

Congress Backs LBJ in Crisis

South Viet Nam On Full Alert

SAIGON, South Viet Nam
(AP)—Premier Nguyen Khanh
decreed a state of emergency
today and ordered general mobilization of manpower and resources with a declaration that
"the coming weeks will be decisive" in South Viet Nam's struggle against the Communists.

Military courts were empowered in this offshoot of the Tonkin Gulf crisis to impose
summary death sentences on all
terrorists, saboteurs and black-
market speculators, with no

A tense night passed quietly
on the northern frontier and American advisers with the Vietnamese 1st Division in that
danger zone said they doubted
that the Communist North Vietnamese would attempt an invasion.

"If they had moved in anger,
they would have hit us one way
or another by now," said Maj.
William McMullen of Long Island, N.Y.

But reinforced defense units
kept up a sharp watch all along
the 50-mile border, which cuts
across inland mountains to Laos
from a swampy plain on the South China Sea. Tanks, artillery and camouflaged riflemen
stood guard aground; U.S. reconnaissance jets sped constantly overhead.

Across the way, North Vietnamese regulars presumably kept a similar watch. At North Viet Nam's front-line posts visible from 1st Division positions,
people could be seen moving
about freely.

Behind the Red lines, the Hanoi regime pursued a word war
against the United States and South Viet Nam.

Radio Hanoi attributed to the
Viet Cong command in South
Viet Nam a broadcast statement
calling for intensified guerrilla
action.

North Viet Nam's cabinet,
without mentioning the damage
incurred in American retaliatory strikes against North Vietnamese PT boats and bases Wednesday, said, "All provoca-
tion and aggressions against
the Democratic Republic of (North) Viet Nam will certainly be defeated by the strength of the entire Vietnamese people."

We are ready to extend assistance to the people of North Viet Nam to overthrow their Communist masters," Khanh
told a news conference.

"I am going now to be with
my troops," he added and refused to say more as he stepped
into a limousine and drove away. Khanh is a major general
in the South Vietnamese army.

The premier appeared to be bracing the South Vietnamese
people for a full-scale war
against the Communists.

The state of national emergency bans strikes and demonstrations, institutes press censorship, controls food distribution and travel, and imposes

curfews in some areas.

Police also were given sweeping powers to search and arrest.
"We said at the beginning of this year that this year would be decisive in our struggle with the Communists," Khanh said.

"Now we can say the coming weeks will be decisive."

Khanh was known to be planning a field trip Saturday to the northern provinces of South Viet Nam.

Censorship provisions were
not spelled out in the decree,
but it said that all press, radio,
movies, theater and publications would be censored.

Khanh told the newsmen that
"internally, we face a Communist army in our territory of 150-000 men, 34,000 of whom are
regular Communist troops."

In addition, he said, there are
new threats from Communist North Viet Nam, Cambodia and
the Chinese Communists, who
he claimed had begun to station
troops in North Viet Nam.

"For these reasons," he said,
"we see clearly that we may be invaded or attacked at anytime."

Vietnamese Crisis Eases

U.S. Keeping Fingers Crossed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The
Vietnamese border crisis appeared to ease today as another
night passed without a Red attack from the north. But there were continuing reports of U.S.
and Red Chinese buildups in the explosive Southeast Asia.

And although the only Peking
response to the U.S. air strike
against North Vietnamese's PT boat fleet has been a torrent of flaming words, President Johnson — as the rest of Washington
officialdom — had his fingers
crossed.

Government forces and their American advisers along South
Viet Nam's heavily reinforced
northern frontier were reported
in dispatches today to have been anticipating a massive Red attack in reprisal. But U.S. operations officers said only "routine" fighting was reported
throughout South Viet Nam.

The South Vietnamese forces
remained on full alert near the
frontier but American advisers
with the government's first division at Gia Linh expressed
doubt the North Vietnamese
would launch an attack.

"If they had moved in anger,
they would have hit us one way
or another by now," said Maj.
William McMullen of Long Island, N.Y., a senior American adviser with the division.

Hanoi, North Viet Nam's capital, was reported by a Japanese businessman to be "very quiet."
Nationalist Chinese military
sources in Taipei, Formosa,
said today that Red China sent
nearly 100 Soviet-built MIG
fighters to Hanoi Thursday to reinforce North Viet Nam's air
force.

The sources said their information came from intelligence
dispatches. American military intelligence sources in Hong Kong said there was nothing to substantiate the report.

From Honolulu came reports
that more than 100 U.S. jets
swept aloft from Hickam Air Force base Thursday, heading toward undisclosed bases in Asia.

Only 2 Solons Vote Negative

President's Move In Asia Upheld

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress voted overwhelming approval today of the resolution
backing President Johnson's actions in the Southeast Asian crisis.

First the House, on a 4140 roll
call, and then the Senate adopted the resolution in a display to
the world of bipartisan unity
behind Johnson's firm military
response to attacks by Communist North Vietnamese on U.S.
warships.

The Senate vote was 88 to 2.
In the Senate, there were protests against the resolution from Sens. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., and
Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska.

Morse said it was giving Johnson "blanket authority to wage
war." Gruening argued, as did Morse, that "All Viet Nam is
not worth the life of a single American boy."

In the House, there was no
outright dissent, but Rep. Adam
Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., voted
"present" when his name was called.

Powell, asked by newsmen to explain his vote, said: "I have always been a pacifist. I have been for 34 years a minister.
But when my country is absolutely in danger as in time of war, then I will support it."

The resolution had the support of Republican as well as Democratic leaders.

"This is one of those occasions when all of us, whatever
our political persuasion, unite
behind our commander in
chief," said Rep. Frances P.
Bolt, R-Ohio, ranking Republican on the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Senate action — with overwhelming approval also certain
— was expected this afternoon.
A long speech of opposition
from Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., delayed action.

House discussion of the resolution was brief with the majority of the speakers, both Republicans and Democrats, expressing firm support for it.

There were exceptions.
Rep. Ed Foreman, R - Tex.,
drew boos and groans of disapproval from the Democratic side when he said: "We've heard an awful lot in the last
few weeks about trigger-happy irresponsibility. I say, 'What is this?'"

Foreman referred to a news
report that President Johnson
had announced the air strike in North Viet Nam on nationwide
television an hour and a half
before the raid actually occurred.

"What kind of responsibility is this?" Foreman shouted. "The parents and wives of the boys
who were killed in those strikes
are going to be asking."

Senate Democratic leader
Mike Mansfield called an early
start of the session to allow Sen.
Wayne Morse, D-Ore., two
hours in which to spell out his opposition to the resolution, and
an hour for other senators to speak.

Morse has denounced the resolution as a "predated declaration of war" and said "the only
solution now is to take this to the conference table immediately."

Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, joined Morse in opposition
Thursday. Gruening told the Senate "All Viet Nam is not worth the life of a single American boy."

But Sen. Richard B. Russell,
D-Ga., chairman of the Senate
Armed Services Committee,
said the PT boat attacks meant
that "our national honor is at stake and we can not shrink
from defending it."

In Thursday's debate, speaker
after speaker underscored the
gravity of the situation and the import of the resolution.

Generally, it's quite difficult to coordinate the presence of the top award winner and the photographer. Most winners are pretty restless sitting around for the picture taker to show up. Not so, Mrs. Joe McCoy, Best-of-Show winner at the flower exhibit. She brought her mending along and patched Tim's bluejeans while she waited.

Dennis Shaw won Best-of-Show
in the junior exhibit he hustled home to change clothes. His Dad, Dick Shaw, wanted to know why he had worn his work clothes to the Fair in the first place. Dennis said how was he to know he would get the top honors and have his picture taken!

Escaped Nazi Gives Self Up

BRUNSWICK, Germany (AP)—
Hans Walter Zech-Nenntwisch,
a war-crimes prisoner who escaped here last April, has given himself up to German authorities, prosecutor Ernst Thiele announced today.

This ended a widespread hunt
for the former SS lieutenant, 47, who was sentenced to four years in prison for his part in the massacre of 5,200 Polish Jews in World War II.

Zech-Nenntwisch escaped April 23, four days after his conviction, with the aid of a jail warden who was his crony during the Nazi days.

He flew to Switzerland with his girl friend, Margit Steinheuer, in a sports plane she rented.

DAYS GONE BY — This is how the famed Logan Elm looked before time and the elements caught up with the historical landmark. Hundreds of families would visit the park on weekends to see the famous tree. In recent years all that existed of the towering elm was a single-branch. Today the tree has been declared "dead" by the Ohio Historical Society.

Congress Backs LBJ in Crisis

(AP)—Premier Nguyen Khanh
decreed a state of emergency
today and ordered general mobilization of manpower and resources with a declaration that
"the coming weeks will be decisive" in South Viet Nam's
struggle against the Communists.

Military courts were empowered in this offshoot of the Tonkin Gulf crisis to impose
summary death sentences on all
terrorists, saboteurs and black-

A tense night passed quietly
on the northern frontier and American advisers with the Vietnamese 1st Division in that
danger zone said they doubted
that the Communist North Vietnamese would attempt an invasion.

"If they had moved in anger,
they would have hit us one way
or another by now," said Maj.
William McMullen of Long Island, N.Y.

But reinforced defense units
kept up a sharp watch all along
the 50-mile border, which cuts
across inland mountains to Laos
from a swampy plain on the South China Sea. Tanks, artillery and camouflaged riflemen
stood guard around; U.S. reconnaissance jets sped constantly overhead.

Across the way, North Vietnamese regulars presumably kept a similar watch. At North
Viet Nam's front-line posts visible from 1st Division positions,
people could be seen moving
about freely.

Behind the Red lines, the Ha-
noi regime pursued a word war
against the United States and
South Viet Nam.

Radio Hanoi attributed to the
Viet Cong command in South
Viet Nam a broadcast statement
action.

North Viet Nam's cabinet,
without mentioning the damage
incurred in American retaliatory strikes against North Vietnamese PT boats and bases
Wednesday, said, "All provoca-
tion and aggressions against
the Democratic Republic of (North) Viet Nam will certainly be defeated by the strength
of the entire Vietnamese people."

We are ready to extend assistance to the people of North
Viet Nam to overthrow their Communist masters," Khanh
told a news conference.

"I am going now to be with
my troops," he added and refused to say more as he stepped
into a limousine and drove
away. Khanh is a major general
in the South Vietnamese army.

The premier appeared to be
bracing the South Vietnamese
people for a full-scale war
against the Communists.

The state of national emergency bans strikes and demonstrations, institutes press censorship, controls food distribution and travel, and imposes

curfews in some areas.

Police also were given sweep-
ing powers to search and arrest.
"We said at the beginning of
this year that this year would be
decisive in our struggle with the Communists," Khanh said.

"Now we can say the coming
weeks will be decisive."

Khanh was known to be planning a field trip Saturday to the northern provinces of South Viet Nam.

Censorship provisions were
not spelled out in the decree,
but it said that all press, radio,
movies, theater and publications would be censored.

Khanh told the newsmen that
"internally, we face a Communist army in our territory of 150-000 men, 34,000 of whom are
regular Communist troops."

In addition, he said, there are
North Viet Nam, Cambodia and
the Chinese Communists, who
he claimed had begun to station
troops in North Viet Nam.

"For these reasons," he said,
"we see clearly that we may be
invaded or attacked at any-
time."

U.S. Keeping Fingers Crossed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The
Vietnamese border crisis appeared to ease today as another
night passed without a Red attack from the north. But there
were continuing reports of U.S.
and Red Chinese buildups in the
explosive Southeast Asia.

And although the only Peking
against North Vietnamese PT
boat fleet has been a torrent of
flaming words, President John-
son — as the rest of Washington
officialdom — had his fingers
crossed.

Government forces and their American advisers along South
Viet Nam's heavily reinforced
northern frontier were reported
in dispatches today to have been
anticipating a massive Red attack in reprisal. But U.S. operations officers said only "rou-
throughout South Viet Nam.

The South Vietnamese forces
remained on full alert near the
frontier but American advisers
with the government's first division at Gia Linh expressed
doubt the North Vietnamese
would launch an attack.

"If they had moved in anger,
they would have hit us one way
or another by now," said Maj.
William McMullen of Long Island, N.Y., a senior American adviser with the division.

Hanoi, North Viet Nam's capital, was reported by a Japanese
Nationalist Chinese military
sources in Taipei, Formosa,
said today that Red China sent
nearly 100 Soviet-built MIG
fighters to Hanoi Thursday to reinforce North Viet Nam's air
force.

The sources said their information came from intelligence
dispatches. American military intelligence sources in Hong Kong said there was nothing to
substantiate the report.

From Honolulu came reports
that more than 100 U.S. jets
swept aloft from Hickam Air Force base Thursday, heading
toward undisclosed bases in Asia.

Moonshiner Arrested; He's 93 Years Young

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP)—
Federal, state and Kern County authorities raided the home of 93-year-old Otis Sledge Thursday to climax a three-month investigation.

They found 15 gallons of moonshine corn whisky and 250
empty bottles.

Sledge was jailed on a charge
of selling and possessing illegal whisky.

President's Move In Asia Upheld

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress voted overwhelming approval today of the resolution
backing President Johnson's actions in the Southeast Asian crisis.

First the House, on a 4140 roll
call, and then the Senate adopt-
ed the resolution in a display to
the world of bipartisan unity
behind Johnson's firm military
response to attacks by Communist North Vietnamese on U.S.
warships.

The Senate vote was 88 to 2.
In the Senate, there were pro-
tests against the resolution from
Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska.

Morse said it was giving John-
son "blanket authority to wage
Morse, that "All Viet Nam is
not worth the life of a single American boy."

In the House, there was no
Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., voted
"present" when his name was called.

Powell, asked by newsmen to
explain his vote, said: "I have
been for 34 years as a minister.
But when my country is absolutely in danger as in time of

The resolution had the support of Republican as well as Democratic leaders.

"This is one of those occasions when all of us, whatever
our political persuasion, unite
behind our commander in
chief," said Rep. Frances P.
Bolon, R-Ohio, ranking Republican on the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Senate action — with overwhelming approval also certain
— was expected this afternoon.

from Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore.,
delayed action.

House discussion of the resolution was brief with the majority of the speakers, both Republicans and Democrats, expressing firm support for it.

There were exceptions.

Rep. Ed Foreman, R. Tex.,
drew boos and groans of disapproval from the Democratic
side when he said: "We've
heard an awful lot in the last
few weeks about trigger-happy
irresponsibility. I say, 'What is this?'"

Foreman referred to a news
report that President Johnson
had announced the air strike in North Viet Nam on nationwide
television an hour and a half
before the raid actually occurred.

"What kind of responsibility is this?" Foreman shouted. "The
parents and wives of the boys
who were killed in those strikes

Senate Democratic leader
Mike Mansfield called an early
start of the session to allow Sen.
Wayne Morse, D-Ore., two
hours in which to spell out his
opposition to the resolution, and
an hour for other senators to speak.

Morse has denounced the resolution as a "predated declaration of war" and said "the only
solution now is to take this to
the conference table immediately."

Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, joined Morse in opposition
Senate "All Viet Nam is not
worth the life of a single Ameri-
can boy."

But Sen. Richard B. Russell,
D-Ga., chairman of the Senate
Armed Services Committee,
said the PT boat attacks meant
that "our national honor is at
stake and we can not shrink
from defending it."

In Thursday's debate, speaker
after speaker underscored the
gravity of the situation and the importance of the resolution.

Open Door Is Cause of Car Accident

Only minor injuries resulted in a one-car accident yesterday south of Circleville on Route 23, near DuPont Road, apparently caused when the driver of the auto attempted to close an open door.

Mrs. Geneva L. Ford, 43, Columbus, told Deputy Gene Kerns that the door of her 1954 model car swung open and when she attempted to close it, she lost control of the vehicle.

The auto rolled over twice in the northbound lane of Route 23, throwing the driver out of the car. Two passengers, Phillip Brown and Harold Ford, were momentarily pinned in the wreckage.

Brown, 15, was treated at Berger Hospital for lacerations of the head and lip. Ford, 47, apparently was uninjured in the accident. Kerns said, A third passenger, 2-year-old Marilyn Pratt, also of Columbus, was not injured.

MRS. FORD was treated at the hospital for extensive abrasions of the body.

Kerns said no citations would be issued. The auto was demolished.

Chaney Vance, manager of the local Production Credit Assn. office, stated support given the 4-H Livestock sale by area businesses and individuals is one of the best investments in the youth of our county. This support, in his opinion, makes Pickaway one of the top agricultural counties in the state.

The Bowling Stock Yard efficiently conducted the sale and Willison Leist, the auctioneer, sold the last of the 145 head of steers three hours after the sale had started.

The livestock sale this year is in two divisions.

Swine and sheep are slated to be sold beginning 8 p. m. today.

Four Injured In Car Crash

Driver of Auto Absent from Scene

Sheriff's deputies today were searching for the driver of an auto in which four persons were injured.

Deputies George Linder and Bud Allison said Lincoln E. VanHoose, 29, Route 1, McArthur, was no where near the crash scene at Route 56 and Jackson Road, about 10 miles east of Circleville. The one-car accident occurred at about 1:10 a. m. today.

All four passengers told deputies that Van Hoose was the driver of the car which left the highway on a curve, broke off a utility pole, ripped out 10 rod of fence, knocked down a tree, rolled over on its top and burst into flames.

The Tarlton Fire Department summoned to the scene, extinguished the car blaze. The vehicle was declared a total loss.

The four injured passengers, all treated at Berger Hospital, were: Richard Fetherolf, 21, Route 2, Laurelville, who suffered multiple cuts of the head and face; Mary Seymour, 20, Route 2, Laurelville, who received lacerations of the head and elbow, a possible fractured jaw and had several teeth knocked out; Betty Elick, 15, South Bloomingtonville, suffered a left shoulder injury; and Wayne VanHoose, 15, Route 2, Laurelville, who had lacerations of the head and wrist.

DEPUTY Linder said VanHoose will be cited to appear in traffic court when he is located. Linder also stated that the adults "had been drinking heavily."

Open Door Is Cause of Car Accident

Only minor injuries resulted in a one-car accident yesterday south of Circleville on Route 23, near DuPont Road, apparently caused when the driver of the auto attempted to close an open door.

Mrs. Geneva L. Ford, 43, Columbus, told Deputy Gene Kerns that the door of her 1954 model car swung open and when she attempted to close it, she lost control of the vehicle.

The auto rolled over twice in the northbound lane of Route 23, throwing the driver out of the car. Two passengers, Phillip Brown and Harold Ford, were momentarily pinned in the wreckage.

Brown, 15, was treated at Berger Hospital for lacerations of the head and lip. Ford, 47, apparently was uninjured in the accident, Kerns said. A third passenger, 2-year-old Marilyn Pratt, also of Columbus, was not injured.

MRS. FORD was treated at the hospital for extensive abrasions of the body.

Kerns said no citations would be issued. The auto was demolished.

Chaney Vance, manager of the local Production Credit Assn. office, stated support given the 4-H Livestock sale by area businesses and individuals is one of the best investments in the youth of our county. This support, in his opinion, makes Pickaway one of the top agricultural counties in the state.

The Bowling Stock Yard efficiently conducted the sale and Willison Leist, the auctioneer, sold the last of the 145 head of steers three hours after the sale had started.

The livestock sale this year is in two divisions. Swine and sheep are slated to be sold beginning 8 p. m. today.

The 4-H pony show exhibitors presented a neat, handsome sight yesterday. Each member of the pony club was attired in a sparkling white shirt and black trousers. The youngsters and the ponies were equally well groomed.

The 4-H Rodeo is truly a grandstand attraction. Darwin Hay is to be commended for the exciting show members of the Rough Riders Club presented yesterday afternoon.

Four Injured In Car Crash

Driver of Auto Absent from Scene

Sheriff's deputies today were searching for the driver of an auto in which four persons were injured.

Deputies George Linder and Bud Allison said Lincoln E. VanHoose, 29, Route 1, McArthur, was no where near the crash scene at Route 56 and Jackson Road, about 10 miles east of Circleville. The one-car accident occurred at about 1:10 a. m. today.

All four passengers told deputies that Van Hoose was the driver of the car which left the highway on a curve, broke off a utility pole, ripped out 10 rods of fence, knocked down a tree, rolled over on its top and burst into flames.

The Tarlton Fire Department summoned to the scene, extinguished the car blaze. The vehicle was declared a total loss.

The four injured passengers, all treated at Berger Hospital, were: Richard Fetherolf, 21, Route 2, Laurelville, who suffered multiple cuts of the head and face; Mary Seymour, 20, Route 2, Laurelville, who received lacerations of the head and elbow, a possible fractured jaw and had several teeth knocked out; Betty Elick, 15, South Bloomington, suffered a left shoulder injury; and Wayne VanHoose, 15, Route 2, Laurelville, who had lacerations of the head and wrist.

DEPUTY Linder said VanHoose will be cited to appear in traffic court when he is located. Linder also stated that the adults "had been drinking heavily."

Crisis Seen To Be Easing In Viet Nam

Thursday afternoon, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara called a news conference at the Pentagon and said that while he assumes Peking may send in some combat aircraft to help North Viet Nam, there have been no indication of any substantial Chinese military movements in the last few days.

What's more, McNamara said there is no evidence the Chinese helped the North Vietnamese in the attacks on the destroyers Maddox and Turner Joy.

Still a regiment of North Viet Nam's infantrymen faced Saigon's reinforced 1st Division at the Ben Hai River border Thursday night. And if China sends combat aircraft to North Viet Nam, they will be the first such planes for the small Red nation which has been pressing a guerrilla war on U.S.-supported South Viet Nam.

China took an ominous stance in the wake of the American strike. It declared "U.S. imperialism" had gone over the brink of war and pledged "the Chinese people will absolutely not sit idly by" while North Viet Nam was being "subjected to aggression."

Thursday, Peking was silent, although two of its satellites took to the air — North Viet Nam to claim its batteries had shot down eight American planes in Wednesday's assault and North Korea to promise full support to North Viet Nam against U.S. "provocative armed aggression."

In a separate broadcast, Hanoi Radio said the American pilot captured by one of its anti-aircraft units has been identified as Lt. J.G. Everett Alvarez Jr., 26, who flew his sortie from the carrier Constellation.

McNamara has said two U.S. planes were shot down and a third damaged. He said efforts will be made to win freedom for Alvarez, listed as missing by the Navy along with Lt. J.G. Richard C. Sather, also 26. Alvarez is from San Jose, Calif., and Sather from Pomona, Calif.

Earlier Thursday, the Pentagon boss went to Capitol Hill and outlined for congressional committees steps taken to be ready to counter any sudden blows in Southeast Asia. He said the reinforcements of U.S. ships, planes and men in the area "will stay in position as long as required."

The committees voted quick approval of a joint resolution authorizing the President to take whatever measures are deemed necessary to stem Communist aggression in the area.

Although there have been murmurs of disapproval — notably from Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore. — there never has been any doubt that Congress will approve the President's request. Both the Senate and House are expected to do so today.

Even though a lull has set in, usually sensitive Wall Street was jittery enough Thursday to send the stock market to its sharpest decline since the assassination last November of President John F. Kennedy.

Before the current crisis developed, U.N. Secretary-General U Thant made a date to visit Washington. He kept it Thursday and while talking to President Johnson suggested a new peace-keeping formula for Southeast Asia.

Thant declined to make the details public, telling newsmen: "I've discussed this on a confidential basis with the President and the secretary of state."

The Burmese diplomat also said he does not believe the U.N. Security Council can be "usefully employed" at this time to settle the crisis — a view with which U.S. officials agree.

Nonetheless, diplomatic sources said in New York the council may plunge into full-scale debate early next week and that delegates from both North and South Viet Nam would participate.

Thursday night, the President relaxed at a formal dinner for Thant at the White House. It was "a good day today," he told reporters. But he held up his hand with fingers crossed.

Filming of Stage Plays Opposed by British Actor

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The filming of stage plays, such as the upcoming "Hamlet" with Richard Burton, is not such a good idea, declares British actor-director John Gielgud.

Others think so. Warner Brothers has recorded the Burton performance on tape, just as it was played at the Lunt-Fontanne Theater in New York, and will show it four times Sept. 23 and 24 in theaters throughout the nation. Now there is talk that Laurence Olivier's "Othello" on the London stage will get the same treatment.

Even though he directed Burton in "Hamlet," Gielgud opined: "I think it's a bad thing to film stage plays as is, except for a historical record. The two techniques are entirely different, and one shouldn't be mixed with the other."

County Court Completes 35 Cases in July

Thirty-five cases were disposed of by Pickaway County Common Pleas Court during July and 32 new cases were filed during the month.

Cases completed included 13 divorces, 12 civil suits and 10 criminal matters. At the beginning of July, there were 179 cases pending action and when the month bowed out there was a total of 176 cases on the docket.

The court's backlog indicated 16 of the cases were tried to court; no jury trials were held; three were cognovit and default judgments; and 16 were settled or dismissed.

One case was carried over this month pending action by the Fourth District Court of Appeals.

Peace Corps Music Man Causing Africa Revolution

BO, SIERRA LEONE (AP)—A modern day music man brought here by the Peace Corps is amusing a rhythmic revolution in this West African land.

There was plenty of primitive tribal rhythm but only two organized bands—the army and the police—when James C. Polite arrived less than a year ago. He organized a 40-piece school band, is planning a drill team, tutoring other teachers in music, and launching a widespread music curriculum.

The short, plump Negro hustles around this up-country town on a motorbike. At 48 he is older than most Peace Corpsmen.

He has made such an impact that Sierra Leone officials recently asked the Peace Corps for four additional bandmasters "with Jim Polite's qualifications and if possible his ability."

Polite feels the same way about Sierra Leone, a former British colony in Africa. It's about the size of South Carolina. He composed a song "Sir Milton Margai" to honor the late prime minister; and an ode to Catholic Training College which is his headquarters here. He writes some tunes in a type of pidgin English called Krio and plans a more elaborate piece of music based on local rhythms and titled "African Boogie."

He says: "Its O.K. to bring U.S. musicians like Louis Armstrong or Cozy Cole over here to entertain but what do these people have left after the visitors have gone? I think it's better in the long run if Sierra Leoneans can entertain themselves with music."

He came here with a varied background as a music teacher starting when he gave informal lessons to friends in Civilian Conservation Corps camps in the 1930s. He studied music at Dillard University in New Orleans and at Chicago Vandercook College and at Roosevelt University. Polite organized 15 elementary and high school bands and spent three years in U.S. Army musical groups.

"They told me when I came here that these people didn't want music — that they were just hungry for basic schooling and not songs," said Polite. "But I was quickly convinced a music program would work and that there was a real need for it."

Mother, Daughter Drown in Ohio River

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Waves and an undertow created by a passing towboat, carried a 33-year-old Belmont County mother of five and her young daughter out to deep water in the Ohio River Thursday evening. They both drowned.

Mrs. Ida Mae Linquist of Shadyside and Ellen Marie, 5, had been wading about waist-high in the area near Shadyside which is marked off for swimming. Another daughter, Mary, 14, said her mother attempted to grab hold of a buoy which marked a reef, but missed it just barely.

Barry Goldwater Reaffirms Views on Extremism

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater reaffirmed Thursday approval of extremism in defense of liberty, compared it with the "house divided" speech which is considered one of the masterpieces of Abraham Lincoln. He said he is preparing a letter to explain his stand more fully "so you won't miss it again."

The Republican presidential nominee said at a news conference that he had been asked at an earlier breakfast session with Republican members of Congress about this passage in his acceptance speech at the San Francisco GOP convention:

"I would remind you that extremism in the defense of liberty is no vice. And let me remind you also that moderation in the pursuit of justice is no virtue."

That declaration set off a furore among those who had accused the conservative Arizona of taking extreme positions and had sought unsuccessfully to get a declaration against extremism into the party platform.

In reporting the questions from congressmen about the statement, Goldwater said Thursday President Johnson's actions in Southeast Asia, which include the Goldwater-approved air strike against North Vietnamese PT boats and their bases, could be considered extreme.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — All around the Hollywood studios, in this comedy year, television actors are playing their scenes for laughs. But on the back lots of MGM and Universal-Revue, World War II is — still — being refought under the sizzling California sun.

"Combat," ABC's drama, soon will start its third season battling from the Normandy beachheads to the Maginot Line, a more leisurely trip than the real fighting men made some 20 years back.

At busy Revue, a portion of the battle of the Bulge is being recreated at one end of a small artificial lake. The other end is a snow-covered Alaska scene, part of a motion picture in the works.

The war show in progress is called "Operation Grief" based on a real episode of the war when specially-trained, English-speaking German saboteurs were dressed in GI uniforms and sent behind the allied lines to make serious mischief. It will be one program of NBC's returning "Suspense Theatre" anthology series on Thursday nights.

A muddy road had been created beside the lake and actors in grimy uniforms were resting — like real, tired soldiers in the shade of fake trees. One, particularly dust-covered and sporting a three-day beard, arose. It proved to be Robert Goulet, the handsome young baritone, who is making his TV acting debut in the episode.

Goldwater said the most extreme action a man can take is to try to take another man's life.

"But when it's done in defense of liberty it's no crime," he said.

Saying he is proud of his statement on the point, Goldwater added that he considers it like the "house divided" speech.

Goldwater said he doesn't think his statement has the historical significance of the statement of the Civil War president, but he said he would use Lincoln's words to describe his feelings about his own declaration on extremism.

The GOP nominee referred to a speech of June 16, 1858, in Springfield, Ill., in which Lincoln reported on pro-slavery agitation and said:

"In my opinion, it will not cease until a crisis shall have been reached, and passed. 'A house divided against itself cannot stand. I believe this government cannot endure, permanently half slave and half free.'"

In reporting that he is preparing a letter to explain his stand on the subject in more detail, Goldwater told a questioner: "I'd rather explain it in depth so you won't miss it again."

While he defended extremism in the cause of liberty, Goldwater said this does not extend to riotous demonstrations in the United States because the American people already have their liberty guaranteed.

Fess Parker, making an easy character shift from Davy Crockett to Daniel Boone this year, was nipped on the neck Wednesday by a bear cub. The minor wound was treated, disguised with makeup and Parker kept on working.

Thursday afternoon, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara called a news conference at the Pentagon and said that while he assumes Peking may send in some combat aircraft to help North Viet Nam, there have been no indication of any substantial Chinese military movements in the last few days.

What's more, McNamara said there is no evidence the Chinese helped the North Vietnamese in the attacks on the destroyers Maddox and Turner Joy.

Still a regiment of North Viet Nam's infantrymen faced Saigon's reinforced 1st Division at the Ben Hai River border Thursday night. And if China sends combat aircraft to North Viet Nam, they will be the first such planes for the small Red nation which has been pressing a guerrilla war on U.S.-supported South Viet Nam.

China took an ominous stance in the wake of the American strike. It declared "U.S. imperialism" had gone over the brink of war and pledged "the Chinese people will absolutely not sit idly by" while North Viet Nam was being "subjected to aggression."

Thursday, Peking was silent, although two of its satellites took to the air — North Viet Nam to claim its batteries had shot down eight American planes in Wednesday's assault and North Korea to promise full support to North Viet Nam against U.S. "provocative armed aggression."

In a separate broadcast, Hanoi Radio said the American pilot captured by one of its anti-aircraft units has been identified as Lt. J.G. Everett Alvarez Jr., 26, who flew his sortie from the carrier Constellation.

McNamara has said two U.S. planes were shot down and a third damaged. He said efforts will be made to win freedom for Alvarez, listed as missing by the Navy along with Lt. J.G. Richard C. Sather, also 26. Alvarez is from San Jose, Calif., and Sather from Pomona, Calif.

Earlier Thursday, the Pentagon boss went to Capitol Hill and outlined for congressional committees steps taken to be ready to counter any sudden blows in Southeast Asia. He said the reinforcements of U.S. ships, planes and men in the area "will stay in position as long as required."

The committees voted quick approval of a joint resolution authorizing the President to take whatever measures are deemed necessary to stem Communist aggression in the area.

Although there have been murmurs of disapproval — notably from Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore. — there never has been any doubt that Congress will approve the President's request. Both the Senate and House are expected to do so today.

Even though a lull has set in, usually sensitive Wall Street was jittery enough Thursday to send the stock market to its sharpest decline since the assassination last November of President John F. Kennedy.

Before the current crisis developed, U.N. Secretary-General U Thant made a date to visit Washington. He kept it Thursday and while talking to President Johnson suggested a new peace-keeping formula for Southeast Asia.

Thant declined to make the details public, telling newsmen: "I've discussed this on a confidential basis with the President."

'Oldsters' Are Important

Remember the oldtimers, those members of society the younger generations impatiently pushed aside, who were given pensions and were expected to go to retirement communities and keep quiet? It seems they aren't being forgotten anymore.

Not by politicians, anyway. Know why? Because the over-65 age group now is the largest single division of the U. S. population. What's more important, to a politician, a higher percentage of the oldsters votes than any other group.

When the ballots have been cast in November's presidential balloting, one-fifth will have come from the over-65 age group. Judging by past presidential elections, only 60 per cent of eligible voters will exercise their right, but 80 per cent of what is now referred to as the "mature vote" will be cast.

Don't be surprised, therefore, to see a big pitch made to the older voter by both parties in the weeks heading into the election. Which should prove an interesting switch on some of the issues generally discussed in a national campaign.

Subjects like employment, taxes and school dropouts are not so important to fixed income retirees as is the danger of inflation eating further into savings and pension checks, the effect of farm subsidies on the price of food and other agricultural products, and the general course of the nation's affairs.

Candidates are not alone in noticing the impact of growing human longevity on contemporary life. Advertising messages are directed more toward older people than was the custom a few years ago.

Even the strong conservative tide sweeping the country might be attributed to an awakening among the over-65 citizens to the power in their grasp. After playing second fiddle to many other voter groups of all ages and interests over the years, it would not be surprising if the "mature vote" of 1964 turns out to be the significant one.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans suddenly are showing more zeal in repaying old debts and less enthusiasm for taking on new ones.

Since World War II especially, installment credit has become a way of life for more and more American families. Can this be changing? Or so the latest figures, surprising to some, reveal just a passing readjustment before a new sprint in extending the "enjoy now — pay later" vogue?

The Federal Reserve Board reports that in June on-the-cuff purchases had their slowest growth in nine months. And repayments of old loans is termed quite high. The board also calls cash payments in department stores more active than just a few months back.

The Federal Reserve Board of New York adds that in addition to paying old bills, consumers are saving a large portion of the federal income tax cut.

The U.S. Census Bureau this week also has revised its earlier figures on retail sales in June. Earlier it had estimated they set a record. Now it finds they fell slightly below sales in May. But the $71 million cut in the previous figures still leaves retail sales in June at an impressive $21,675,000,000 and retailers are confident that sales will rise this fall.

While consumers were spending the near record amount in June in the stores, they were also putting out $5,029,000,000 to repay their installment debt. The Federal Reserve Board terms the average repayments in the second quarter of the year "the best on record."

The wonderment arises because in the first three months of the year there was a big jump in outstanding consumer credit and also in retail sales. Most of this period was before the income tax cut went into effect. The increase in take-home pay was supposed to pep up both activities markedly.

Since then, neither sales nor installment credit expanded as had been predicted.

Extensions of installment credit in June came to $5.4 billion. But taking into account the repayments, this brought total consumer installment credit outstanding to $55.9 billion, up only $370 million from May. This was the smallest gain since the $341 million last September.

And it's the trend that businessmen are watching just now, more than the record total. They know that Americans owe a great deal which they expect to repay at regular intervals. What the businessmen are watching is how fast, or how slow, this total is growing.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THE PRESENCE of that doughy martinet, Gen. Reggie Hotchkiss (retired) and his wife as guests of honor at the Lakeview Country Club's February 22 dinner dance was a source of deep pride to the socially ambitious president of that organization. Choking with self-importance — and stage fright — he rose to introduce the General.

"Fellow members," he proclaimed, "our famous guest this evening bears a name familiar to you all. Its last syllable is what he has given his wife many times daily for the past forty years. Here he is — that battle-scarred — I mean bottle-scarred — I mean intrepid warrior, General Hotchkiss — er, pardon me — General Hotchkiss, of course. He will give us our Birthington's — Washday — I mean Washington's Birthday address."

The General's following remarks were something of an anti-climax.

Just before the Broadway premiere of what was destined to be one of her greatest hits, a star whose name you all would recognize, walked to the center of the stage and announced to the cast, "I'm going to pray for all us right here and now." She sank to her knees and intoned, "Lord, help us do our best tonight. Let us be even better than we were in dress rehearsal. Let the critics appreciate and praise our offering. And oh, Lord, keep that blank director from lousing up our show!"

Q: What is a stroke?

A: "Stroke" is a general term which covers a wide variety of conditions caused by some interference with the blood and oxygen supply to the brain. These are technically classed as "cerebro-vascular accidents."

Q: What causes a stroke?
A: A clot, or thrombus, may clog a blood vessel to the brain, obstructing the normal flow of blood; or a blood vessel may break, causing a brain hemorrhage.

Both of these "accidents" can produce "brain anemia," which hinders the normal functioning of the affected area of the brain.

Q: Do all strokes have the same symptoms?

A: No. Symptoms differ according to the particular area of the brain that has been affected.

The human brain is divided into many tiny segments, each of which controls a different function of the body. Trouble in one spot may result in paralysis of the arm or leg. Injury to another area, just one half inch away, may cause impairment of speech or understanding (aphasia), or limitation of sight.

Q: Is it possible to recover from a stroke?

A: Absolutely. Many patients can make a complete and permanent recovery. Even victims of very severe strokes may be completely rehabilitated and again function normally as productive and happy people.

Q: Can strokes be prevented?

A: There are certain conditions, like high blood pressure, which can be the underlying causes of strokes. The recognition, treatment and control of these conditions can prevent many strokes.

Q: When should rehabilitation therapy begin?

A: It must be started as early as possible after a stroke occurs.

The precise causes of strokes are so well pinpointed that effective treatment can begin immediately.

Stroke patients show remarkable courage and determination. They should be supported in their efforts by love, patience and encouragement, especially during the difficult early phase of recovery.

It is vital — both physically and emotionally — that patients help themselves as much as possible and continue striving for further improvement. Over-solicitousness and pampering on the part of well-meaning family and friends can retard the progress of recovery and create a demoralizing sense of dependence and resignation.

The best way to help a stroke victim is to help him become self-sufficient so that he may retain his dignity as a productive human being.

Hollywood Seeks New Talent

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Young man, if you want to storm the gates of Hollywood, now is your time to march.

"Young people are welcome now, because everybody realizes we must have new blood," said veteran producer-director Fred Zinneman.

"Talent is the thing. If you have talent, you are very much needed. If not, you might as well beat your head against a wall."

There was no welcome mat out for Zinneman, when he came to the film colony from Vienna, Austria, after he abandoned earlier plans to become either a concert violinist or a lawyer.

"When I first set foot in Los Angeles," he recalled, "there was still an obsolete ordinance in effect making it illegal to shoot rabbits from the rear platform of street cars."

"It was very hard to become a director then. Everything was channeled. The big studios weren't taking chances on young people."

"It's completely changed now. There is no central authority, no front office anymore. Everything is more wide open."

Zinneman started as an extra and also worked as a script clerk.

Although he won an Academy Award in 1938 for a film short, it wasn't until he made "The Search" in 1948 that his directorial genius was fully recognized — 19 years after he arrived in Hollywood with high hopes and empty pockets.

His hopes are still as high, but his pockets are no longer empty. Today, the slender, grizzled, 57-year-old director is regarded as one of the half-dozen or so master magicians of screen drama — sensitive, poetic, imaginative.

"From Here to Eternity" brought him a second Oscar, and he has been nominated for an Academy Award six other times. He is a painstaking craftsman and his total output is small — fewer than 20 major productions.

"Everybody works in his own way," he said almost apologetically. "It has nothing to do with quality. I just happen to work slow. It takes me a long time to find a good story. I have to feel I am in love with it, or else I can't tell it well."

Fred feels the industry's future is bright and says that a good picture now — "but it has to be really good" — can make more money than ever before.

"We have advanced a great deal. When I started, they used to say we were making pictures for an audience whose average mental age was only 12 years. Well," he grinned and added: "I think now the average age is 18 or up."

But like many old-timers, Fred thinks the stars of yesterday were more glamorous than those of today.

"They were remote and romantic," he said. "Now they get too close to the people."

"They want to seem just like the boy or girl next door. That's a mistake. People don't go to the movies to see the boy or girl next door."

Fred said that in film making he isn't particularly trying to prove anything to anyone.

"I am too old and too confused to define the meaning of life," he remarked. "Life has too many meanings and too many levels."

"Nor can I put my philosophy into words. I try to put it into my pictures. Essentially, I suppose it is this: A man has to live up to his convictions in this world — or be lost."

'Oldsters' Are Important

Remember the oldtimers, those members of society the younger generations impatiently pushed aside, who were given pensions and were expected to go to retirement communities and keep quiet? It seems they aren't being forgotten anymore.

Not by politicians, anyway. Know why? Because the over-65 age group now is the largest single division of the U. S. population. What's more important, to a politician, a higher percentage of the oldsters votes than any other group.

When the ballots have been cast in November's presidential balloting, one-fifth will have come from the over-65 age group. Judging by past presidential elections, only 60 per cent of eligible voters will exercise their right, but 80 per cent of what is now referred to as the "mature vote" will be cast.

Don't be surprised, therefore, to see a big pitch made to the older voter by both parties in the weeks heading into the election. Which should prove an interesting switch on some of the issues generally discussed in a national campaign.

Subjects like employment, taxes and school dropouts are not so important to fixed income retirees as is the danger of inflation eating further into savings and pension checks, the effect of farm subsidies on the price of food and other agricultural products, and the general course of the nation's affairs.

Candidates are not alone in noticing the impact of growing human longevity on contemporary life. Advertising messages are directed more toward older people than was the custom a few years ago.

Even the strong conservative tide sweeping the country might be attributed to an awakening among the over-65 citizens to the power in their grasp. After playing second fiddle to many other voter groups of all ages and interests over the years, it would not be surprising if the "mature vote" of 1964 turns out to be the significant one.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans suddenly are showing more real in repaying old debts and less enthusiasm for taking on new ones.

Since World War II especially, installment credit has become a way of life for more and more American families. Can this be changing? Or so the latest figures, surprising to some, reveal just a passing readjustment before a new sprint in extending the "enjoy now — pay later" vogue?

The Federal Reserve Board reports that in June on-the-cuff purchases had their slowest growth in nine months. And repayments of old loans is termed quite high. The board also calls cash payments in department stores more active than just a few months back.

The Federal Reserve Board of New York adds that in addition to paying old bills, consumers are saving a large portion of the federal income tax cut.

The U.S. Census Bureau this week also has revised its earlier figures on retail sales in June. Earlier it had estimated they set a record. Now it finds they fell slightly below sales in May. But the $71 million cut in the previous figures still leaves retail sales in June at an impressive $21,675,000,000 and retailers are confident that sales will rise this fall.

While consumers were spending the near record amount in June in the stores, they were also putting out $5,029,000,000 to repay their installment debt. The Federal Reserve Board terms the average repayments in the second quarter of the year "the best on record."

The wonderment arises because in the first three months of the year there was a big jump in outstanding consumer credit and also in retail sales. Most of this period was before the income tax cut went into effect. The increase in take-home pay was supposed to pep up both activities markedly.

Since then, neither sales nor installment credit expanded as had been predicted.

Extensions of installment credit in June came to $5.4 billion. But taking into account the repayments, this brought total consumer installment credit outstanding to $55.9 billion, up only $370 million from May. This was the smallest gain since the $341 million last September.

And it's the trend that businessmen are watching just now, more than the record total. They know that Americans owe a great deal which they expect to repay at regular intervals. What the businessmen are watching is how fast, or how slow, this total is growing.

"Margie, put that cat out and get to bed!"

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THE PRESENCE of that doughty martinet, Gen. Reggie Hotchkiss (retired) and his wife as guests of honor at the Lakeview Country Club's February 22 dinner dance was a source of deep pride to the socially ambitious president of that organization. Choking with self-importance — and stage fright — he rose to introduce the General.

"Fellow members," he proclaimed, "our famous guest this evening bears a name familiar to you all. Its last syllable is what he has given his wife many times daily for the past forty years. Here he is — that battle-scarred — I mean bottle-scarred — I mean intrepid warrior, General Hotchkiss — er, pardon me — General Hotchkiss, of course. He will give us our Birthington's Washday — I mean Washington's Birthday address."

The General's following remarks were something of an anti-climax.

Just before the Broadway premiere of what was destined to be one of her greatest hits, a star whose name you all would recognize, walked to the center of the stage and announced to the cast, "I'm going to pray for all us right here and now." She sank to her knees and intoned, "Lord, help us do our best tonight. Let us be even better than we were in dress rehearsal. Let the critics appreciate and praise our offering. And oh, Lord, keep that blank director from lousing up our show!"

UAW Is Warned Watch for Her

DETROIT (AP)—UAW kingpins had better watch out for HER.

UAW stands for United Auto Workers. HER stands for "Help for Equal Recognition" and is being organized within the UAW by its estimated 150,000 women members.

HER's immediate objective is election in 1966 of a woman to the UAW's 25-member International Executive Board, which runs the union. After that, a bigger voice in union affairs.

A driving force behind HER is a shapely blonde who knows how to captivate men. She has to. She's one of five women among 1,500 men employed in the Rockwell — Standard Auto Parts plant at Newark, Ohio.

She is 34-year-old Joanne Wilson, whose other vital statistics include a 36-24-36 shape and a 5-foot-4½ height. She is a tool room attendant.

Mrs. Wilson and Elizabeth Jackson of Detroit were named cochairmen of a national steering committee organized this year at the union's Atlantic City convention to get a women's 1966 election campaign under way for the 1966 convention.

It was the Ohio blonde bombshell that gave the women's movement momentum.

Individually women within the union had been voicing demands for "recognition" within the UAW hierarchy. When the caucus supporting UAW President Walter P. Reuther and his slate met at Atlantic City, Mrs. Wilson nominated Carolyn Davis, UAW women's director, for the executive board.

Mrs. Davis declined to attempt an upset of someone on the boss' slate. So, Joanne Wilson then nominated Joanne Wilson. "Because I knew I would accept."

The results shook up the Reuther caucus and gained women unionists prompt attention. Mrs. Wilson got approximately 500 out of 1,500 votes.

Political campaigns are nothing new to Mrs. Wilson. She missed the Democratic Party's nomination for mayor of Newark by only 45 votes in 1963, and she won a spot on her local union's bargaining team.

When she isn't keeping tabs on tools at Rockwell — standard, she's keeping books on the 50 apartments she and husband Donald own, tending to her duties as vice president of a weekly newspaper at Heath, Ohio, or reporting for her union newspaper, or helping her father run his real estate business.

Laurelville News

By Mrs. Ray Poling

Mrs. Hazel McNeal was the weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kerns of Marietta Road. Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kerns were Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Boecher and daughter, Jane of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. David Carnes and sons, Bret and Bart and Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Boecher Jr. of Chillicothe.

Mrs. Shirley Price and children Jennifer and Bryon were Thursday guests of Mrs. Pete Sweptson. They enjoyed a picnic at Old Man's Cave. They also visited Cedar Falls, Ash Cave and The Rock House.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Tatman and family of Columbus and his mother, Mrs. Loi Tatman, left last Friday to spend two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Tatman and family of Fort Worth, Tex.

Mrs. Nell Swackhammer and Mrs. Ed Smith gave a miscellaneous shower Friday evening for a recent bride, Mrs. Dale Miller (Carolyn Thompson) at the Laurelville Park. Contests were enjoyed by all and she received many gifts. Refreshments were served to 40 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sells of Columbus were Saturday guests of his mother, Mrs. Della Sells.

Mrs. Robert Butts and Mrs. Jim Hardman gave a miscellaneous shower at the social room of the EUB Church Friday evening for Mrs. Larry Goodman (Linda Kay Poling). Contests were enjoyed by all. She received many gifts. Refreshments were served to 18 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Miller and son left Sunday for Indiana where Mr. Miller is employed.

Mrs. Sam Moore, Leo Febes, Mrs. Paul Hettinger and family, Mrs. Tom Disbennett and Tootsy visited Camp Otterbein Wednesday. Susie Disbennett was spending the week there.

The EUB Youth Fellowship met Monday evening with 12 members and Rev. Gearhart and Doris Disbennett present. The group decided to attend the Stoutsville Camp Meetings. A watermelon party followed the services.

Bellefontaine Firm Destroyed by Blaze

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio (AP)—Fire destroyed the Watkins farm supply Co. and damaged the Bellefontaine Plating and Manufacturing Co. late Thursday night.

Police at the scene figured the damage at approximately $100,000. There were no serious injuries.

Firemen from Urbana, Sidney, Marysville and several Logan County townships assisted the Bellefontaine force, bringing the blaze under control in an hour and one-half.

Local AAUW Lists Plans For Membership Drive

Mrs. Carl Heffelfinger president of the Circleville Branch of The American Association of University Women, announced that plans are under way for a local membership drive for the coming year.

Following are excerpts from a report submitted by a committee from the local branch:

"The American Association of University Women was founded in 1882 to open the doors of education to women and to unite alumnae of different institutions for practical education work. Today members number more than 155,000 organized in over 1500 branches in the 50 states, the District of Columbia and Guam. AAUW lists over 800 American colleges and universities whose women graduates are eligible for Association membership.

"On a national scale a study-action program is developed with four topics chosen each biennium relating to the basic areas of Association interest, community problems, cultural interest, educational and world problems.

"Occident and Orient" is the topic the local branch has chosen for the coming year. "For this study program the branch will examine the history, religion, philosophy, art, literature, social structure and many other policies of India.

"All women who hold baccalaureate or higher degrees from colleges and universities on the AAUW qualified list or a degree from a foreign institution recognized by the International Federation of University Women may join the Association."

The committee announced that women desiring membership in the local branch may contact Mrs. Heffelfinger, GR 4-4019;

Mrs. Milford Tassler, recording secretary, GR 4-4548; Mrs. J. Austin Dowden, membership chairman, GR 4-5182 or Mrs. J. L. Chilcote, membership co-chairman, GR 4-5239.

Luscious Fresh Peach Desserts

By ALICE DENHOFF

Even though peach crops in some parts of the country were killed by heavy frosts this year, this is a big country, and those areas which escaped severe weather are now supplying us with this luscious fruit.

FRESH PEACH PINWHEELS

2 c. sifted all-purpose flour
2 tsp. double-acting baking powder
1 tsp. salt
2 tsp. sugar
1-4 c. (1/2 stick) butter or margarine
2-3 c. milk
1 large egg white
1/2 c. sugar
1-4 c. flour
1/2 tsp. salt

1 1/2 c. diced fresh peaches
2 tsp. butter or margarine
Fresh Peach Sauce
Whipped cream (optional)
Sift together first 4 ingredients. Add butter and cut it into crumb consistency.

Stir in milk.
Turn dough onto lightly floured board. Roll to 1-3 in. thickness in rectangle.

Beat egg white only until foamy. Brush over surface of dough to prevent it from becoming soggy.

Combine sugar, flour and salt. Sprinkle half of the mixture over dough, then scatter peaches over top. Sprinkle with remaining flour and sugar mixture. Dot with butter.

Starting from longest side, roll up jelly-roll fashion. Cut roll into 1 in. crosswise slices. Fit into large buttered muffin tins or place on baking sheet. Bake at 425 degrees F. for 20 min., or until done.

Serve in dessert dishes with peach sauce or whipped cream if desired.

Makes 14 pinwheels.

PEACH SAUCE

1 c. (about 3/4 lb.) crushed fresh peaches
1/2 tsp. fresh lemon juice
1 tsp. sugar
Combine all ingredients. Let stand 10 to 15 min. to dissolve sugar.

PEACH PANDOWDY

6 c. (3 lbs.) sliced fresh peaches
1 c. sugar
1 1/2 tsp. tapioca
1-4 tsp. salt
2 tsp. butter or margarine
1 1/2 c. sifted all-purpose flour
3/4 tsp. salt
3 tsp. double-acting baking powder

1 tsp. sugar
1-3 c. shortening
1 large egg, beaten
1/2 c. milk
Combine first 4 ingredients. Turn into 9x9x2 in. baking pan. Dot with butter or margarine.

Sift together next 4 ingredients. Cut in shortening. Combine egg and milk and stir into mixture, mixing well. Drop batter from teaspoon in 8 mounds over top of peaches. Bake at 425 degrees F for 30 min. or until browned.

Cover with foil and bake 10 min. longer or until batter is cooked underneath.

Serve warm.

Makes 8 servings.

PEACH SPONGE CAKE WITH RASPBERRY SAUCE

3 large fresh peaches
6 Mary Ann cakes or 6 squares sponge cake
1 c. fresh raspberries
3 tsp. sugar
1 tsp. fresh lemon juice
Whipped cream (optional)

Peel peaches, cut in halves and remove pits. Place peach half on each of the cakes or sponge cake squares.
Wash raspberries; crush and add lemon juice and sugar. Spoon over peaches.

If desired, top with whipped cream.

Serves 6.

Fresh, membrane-free orange sections make a delightful partner to honeydew or cantaloupe balls to serve as a desert or a first course. If there's fruit sherbet in the freezer, you may want to add a small ball of this refreshing ice to the orange and melon serving.

Cottage cheese makes a nutritious and delicious contribution to summer vegetable and fruit salads. Use the cheese as soon as possible after you bring it from the market; its flavor will be best if you store it for no more than a day or two.

Dear Abby: Just Ask Your Daughter

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I was going through my daughter's dresser drawers looking for something I had misplaced when I came across a letter she had written to you, but not mailed. In it she thanks you for helping her out of some "mess" she had gotten herself into. We are very close, my daughter and I, and she has always come to me with all her little problems. I don't want to ask her what the "mess" was she had written to you about because I don't want her to get the impression that I was snooping through her things, but I want your explanation of that "mess" whatever it was. Please don't feel that you would be betraying her confidence by anything you tell me, Abby, because we are just like sisters, and she tells me everything anyway. She signed herself "OLD ENOUGH."

HER MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: Since she tells you everything, why don't you ask her?

DEAR ABBY: Will you please help settle an argument between my mother and me? A friend of ours to whom I had sent an announcement of my high school graduation sent me a very nice card and on it she wrote: "I did not know what to get you so I have enclosed a five dollar bill." Abby, the envelope was sealed up tight (I opened it myself) but there was no five dollar bill inside. I am writing my thank-you notes and my mother says I should just thank her for the gift and let it go at that. I think I should tell her there wasn't any five dollar bill inside because maybe she forgot to put it in, or someone opened the envelope, took it out and sealed it back again. What do you think? I don't want her think I am hinting for the money.

PUZZLED
DEAR PUZZLED: Write and thank her for remembering you on your graduation, and tell her frankly that no money was enclosed.

DEAR ABBY: I was asked to be a bridesmaid. The bride's mother is making all the bridesmaids' dresses in the same style, but in different colors. I am the only redhead in the bunch, and she gave me the pink dress to wear. Abby, redheads can't wear pink! I asked her if I could have another color, but she said all the other colors were taken. Should I wear pink and look terrible or should I drop out of the bridal party? I've never been a bridesmaid before and hate to pass it up, but I am afraid I'll look like a freak.

HATES PINK
DEAR HATES: You just THINK you can't wear pink. Thanks to modern art colors that have been clashing for years are now on good terms, and very smart. Wear pink, and think Picasso.

37th Division May Get Top Rating in U.S.

CAMP GRAYLING, Mich. (AP)—Ohio's 37th Infantry Division wraps up its summer-time training period today with the good chance that an end-of-the-month report will designate it the top group in the nation.

The 37th ranks near the top among the country's reserve and national guard divisions each year. Divisions leaders have indicated that the ratings received this year may make the 37th the leader.

Regular Army evaluators who inspected nearly every phase of the two-week training period gave the division 5,184 superior ratings, 4,495 excellent marks, 46 satisfactory and 1 unsatisfactory grade.

"I was impressed with the unit, the training and the exceptionally good spirit of the men," Gen. Hugh P. Harris, commander of the Continental Army Corps, told the division. "I was particularly struck by the military courtesy and the shape your equipment is in," he added.

The 9,000 citizen-soldiers begin their trips back to Ohio Saturday traveling three main routes in military convoys.

Fall Bridal Gowns Are Luxurious

By SUSAN BARDEN

Lucky girls who are being married in the fall will be shopping for their wedding gowns well in advance. So they will be interested in a beautiful collection that was presented recently in New York City.

The bridal dresses were designed by Alfred Angelo and are as romantic and glamorous as any bride could wish.

Luxurious fabrics are used and many are lavishly embroidered in beads, pearls and jewels on the skirts, bodices and sleeves. Some combine silk satin or silk peau de soie skirts with embroidered English net tops while others are fashioned in one of the fine silks with all-over embroidery patterns.

An innovation which is particularly elegant for late autumn weddings is the use of precious furs as trim. White mink and ermine are the favorites.

The styles include the traditional, which have permanent trains, full-skirted dresses with removable trains and the new modern slender sheaths that feature panel type trains.

State Education Chiefs To Meet on Monday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Board of Education will hear recommendations affecting the Decatur-Washington Local School District at its monthly meeting Monday. E. E. Holt, state superintendent of public instruction, said he would also recommend approval of the request of the Piqua City Board of Education to transfer 153.6 acres of territory from a school district in Miami County to the Piqua school district.

Slice hard-cooked eggs crosswise so you have thin cuts; place each on a round of melba toast. Add a dot of mayonnaise and a caper - rolled anchovy. Serve this delicious canape with tomato juice or some other before-dinner drink.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, Aug. 7, the 220th day of 1964. There are 146 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1942, U.S. Marines landed on Guadalcanal, in the Solomon Islands. It was the start of a bitter battle ending in the defeat of the Japanese the following February.

On this date:

In 1789, Congress established the War and Navy departments.

In 1940, Gen. Charles de Gaulle's Free French forces pledged to continue the struggle against Germany to the end.

In 1941, Russian planes bombed Berlin for the first time.

Ten years ago — President Dwight D. Eisenhower informed West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer that the United States would not approve the return of $500 million in German assets seized in the United States during the war.

Five years ago — Buckingham Palace announced Queen Elizabeth was expecting her third child early in 1960.

One year ago — Mrs. John F. Kennedy gave birth to her second son, Patrick Bouvier Kennedy, at Otis Air Force Base Hospital on Cape Cod.

Nice for ready-to-serve summer dessert: make up a batch of meringue shells and freezer-store. Serve them with ice cream and a fresh fruit sauce.

You can add as much as a tablespoon of grated orange rind to a standard two-cups-of-flour muffin recipe.

Local AAUW Lists Plans For Membership Drive

Mrs. Carl Heffelfinger, president of the Circleville Branch of The American Association of University Women, announced that plans are under way for a local membership drive for the coming year.

Following are excerpts from a report submitted by a committee from the local branch:

"The American Association of University Women was founded in 1882 to open the doors of education to women and to unite alumnae of different institutions for practical education work. Today members number more than 155,000 organized in over 1500 branches in the 50 states, the District of Columbia and Guam. AAUW lists over 800 American colleges and universities whose women graduates are eligible for Association membership.

"On a national scale a study-action program is developed with four topics chosen each biennium relating to the basic areas of Association interest, community problems, cultural interest, educational and world problems.

"Occident and Orient" is the topic the local branch has chosen for the coming year. "For this study program the branch will examine the history, religion, philosophy, art, literature, social structure and many other policies of India.

"All women who hold baccalaureate or higher degrees from colleges and universities on the AAUW qualified list or a degree from a foreign institution recognized by the International Federation of University Women may join the Association."

The committee announced that women desiring membership in the local branch may contact Mrs. Heffelfinger, GR 4-4019;

Mrs. Milford Tassler, recording secretary, GR 4-548; Mrs. J. Austin Dowden, membership chairman, GR 4-5182 or Mrs. J. L. Chilcote, membership co-chairman, GR 4-5239.

Luscious Fresh Peach Desserts

By ALICE DENHOFF

Even though peach crops in some parts of the country were killed by heavy frosts this year, this is a big country, and those areas which escaped severe weather are now supplying us with this luscious fruit.

FRESH PEACH PINWHEELS

2 c. sifted all-purpose flour
2 tsp. double-acting baking powder

1 tsp. salt
2 tsp. sugar

1-4 c. (1/2 stick) butter or margarine

2-3 c. milk

1 large egg white

1/2 c. sugar

1-4 c. flour

1/2 tsp. salt

1 1/2 c. diced fresh peaches

2 tsp. butter or margarine

Fresh Peach Sauce

Whipped cream (optional)

Sift together first 4 ingredients. Add butter and cut it into crumb consistency.

Stir in milk.

Turn dough onto lightly floured board. Roll to 1-3 in. thickness in rectangle.

Beat egg white only until foamy. Brush over surface of dough to prevent it from becoming soggy.

Combine sugar, flour and salt. Sprinkle half of the mixture over dough, then scatter peaches over top. Sprinkle with remaining flour and sugar mixture. Dot with butter.

Starting from longest side, roll up jelly-roll fashion. Cut roll into 1 in. crosswise slices. Fit into large buttered muffin tins or place on baking sheet. Bake at 425 degrees F. for 20 min., or until done.

Serve in dessert dishes with peach sauce or whipped cream if desired.

Makes 14 pinwheels.

PEACH SAUCE

1 c. (about 3/4 lb.) crushed fresh peaches.

1/2 tsp. fresh lemon juice

1 tsp. sugar

Combine all ingredients. Let stand 10 to 15 min. to dissolve sugar.

PEACH PANDOWDY

6 c. (3 lbs.) sliced fresh peaches

1 c. sugar

1 1/2 tsp. tapioca

1-4 tsp. salt

2 tsp. butter or margarine

1 1/4 c. sifted all-purpose flour

3/4 tsp. salt

3 tsp. double-acting baking powder

1 tsp. sugar

1-3 c. shortening

1 large egg, beaten

1/2 c. milk

Combine first 4 ingredients. Turn into 9x9x2 in. baking pan. Dot with butter or margarine.

Sift together next 4 ingredients. Cut in shortening. Combine egg and milk and stir into mixture, mixing well. Drop batter from teaspoon in 8 mounds over top of peaches. Bake at 425 degrees F. for 30 min. or until browned.

Cover with foil and bake 10 min. longer or until batter is cooked underneath.

Serve warm.

Makes 8 servings.

PEACH SPONGE CAKE WITH RASPBERRY SAUCE

3 large fresh peaches

6 Mary Ann cakes or 6 squares sponge cake

1 c. fresh raspberries

3 tsp. sugar

1 tsp. fresh lemon juice

Whipped cream (optional)

Peel peaches, cut in halves and remove pits. Place peach half on each of the cakes or sponge cake squares.

Wash raspberries; crush and add lemon juice and sugar. Spoon over peaches.

If desired, top with whipped cream.

Serves 6.

Fresh, membrane-free orange sections make a delightful partner to honeydew or cantaloupe balls to serve as a desert or a first course. If there's fruit sherbet in the freezer, you may want to add a small ball of this refreshing ice to the orange and melon serving.

Cottage cheese makes a nutritious and delicious contribution to summer vegetable and fruit salads. Use the cheese as soon as possible after you bring it from the market; its flavor will be best if you store it for no more than a day or two.

Ohio BUC

Opens Drive

On Dropouts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio has produced 40,000 pamphlets which it hopes will change the minds of youngsters thinking of dropping out of school.

The pamphlets, a major revision of one issued in 1958 and again four years ago, are being sent to the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation offices around the state. They also are being sent to schools and public officials on request.

BUC Administrator Willard P. Dudley thinks more will have to be printed.

Effect of the pamphlets is hard to evaluate because, if the youngster decides to stay in school, nothing more is heard in most cases, Youth Services chief Sandra Mackey says.

There seems to be a better chance of bringing the youngster back to school if he's been out of class less than two weeks, she says. After that, dread of returning grows.

Preliminary figures from a statewide public school study by the State Education Department show about 12,000 to 13,000 Ohio youngsters left grades 9 through 12 in the 1962-63 academic year, Research Director Robert Beynon says.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, Aug. 7, the 220th day of 1964. There are 146 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1942, U.S. Marines landed on Guadalcanal, in the Solomon Islands. It was the start of a bitter battle ending in the defeat of the Japanese the following February.

On this date:

In 1789, Congress established the War and Navy departments.

In 1940, Gen. Charles de Gaulle's Free French forces pledged to continue the struggle against Germany to the end.

In 1941, Russian planes bombed Berlin for the first time.

Ten years ago — President Dwight D. Eisenhower informed West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer that the United States would not approve the return of $500 million in German assets seized in the United States during the war.

Five years ago — Buckingham Palace announced Queen Elizabeth was expecting her third child early in 1960.

One year ago — Mrs. John F. Kennedy gave birth to her second son, Patrick Bouvier Kennedy, at Otis Air Force Base Hospital on Cape Cod.

Yankees Pull Dusty Bat Act, Ending Slump

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The biggest two weeks of the year in the American League start today, and the New York Yankees got ready for them by leaving their bats in the rack.

That should be bad news for the Baltimore Orioles and the Chicago White Sox.

The last time the Yankees did that they won five straight.

And this time they pulled out the finale of a three-game set in Kansas City, 5-3, by using the dusty bat act that was dreamed up by Manager Yogi Berra as a slump-killer.

The victory put the Yankees four percentage points ahead of the Orioles, with the big series coming up between the two clubs at Yankee Stadium tonight.

The third-place White Sox dropped 1½ games back, when they dropped a 5-2 decision to the Detroit Tigers. The Minnesota Twins edged the Boston Red Sox 6-5 on a fly ball that was lost in the sun, in the other game.

The Orioles were idle, along with the Senators, Angels and Indians.

In the National League, Houston edged first-place Philadelphia 2-1. Cincinnati walloped Milwaukee 9-3. Pittsburgh beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-1 and St. Louis downed the Chicago Cubs 5-3.

The Yankees snapped out of their slump in Kansas City by using Yogi's recipe for weak hitting — not batting practice. It was the second time this year that Berra had ordered his team to skip batting drill, and the second time they responded.

The same kind of response would come in handy in the next two weeks — which are being billed as pennant weeks. The Orioles meet the second-place Yankees for four games at home, and then the White Sox come in for four.

Then the Yanks go to Baltimore for three and Chicago for four.

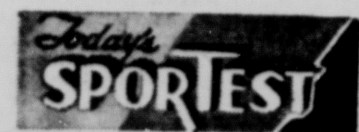

That will wind up the season's business for the Yankees with the competitors. They will not see either team again.

The Yanks are 5-6 against the Orioles, and 10-0 against the White Sox, going into the big fortnight, but they are not certain at this stage if their ace, Whitey Ford, can be counted on for regular work. He has an ailing hip.

That made the continued rehabilitation of onetime ace Ralph Terry good news for the Yanks. Terry got the victory, his third in a row, against the Athletics, although he needed help when the home run ball started to catch up to him again.

Nellie Mathews homered in the fifth and Rocky Colavito hit his 27th, a two-run shot, in the eighth, against Terry.

Roger Maris got the Yanks off in front with a homer in the fifth, and Tommy Tresh hit a two-run triple in the seventh. Elston Howard's wrong field homer in the eighth proved to be the winning run.

Kansas City Fire Truck Pelted by Yank Tomatoes

KANSAS CITY (AP) — There's never a dull moment out at Charley Finley's baseball emporium at 22nd and Brooklyn.

Thursday the New York Yankees were in town, the shepherd with his flowing robes was on the embankment with his sheep and his bell behind the right field wall. Most of the 14,881 fans were in the park to watch their Athletics try to make it three straight over the proud Yankees.

Five minutes before game time a 1925 fire truck, its siren blowing, moved down the first base-line with a half-dozen groundkeepers aboard. A garden hose sprayed the skinned baseline and the ground in front of the A's dugout, moved past home plate and toward the Yankee dugout.

Suddenly out came a dozen Yankees with bath towels soaked in water and hurled them at driver-head ground-keeper George Toma and his helpers. A few ripe tomatoes thrown with sturdy major league arms splattered against the ancient fire truck.

The groundkeeper's hoses doused the attacking Yankees and the fire truck sped (at 15 miles an hour) on past the left field bullpen where another fusillade awaited them.

Teays Valley Grid Physicals Slated Monday

Viking Schedule Includes Eight Games for Season

Teays Valley football candidates are scheduled to take physical examinations for the upcoming season 9 a. m. Monday at the high school, it was announced today by Coach Marion Waits.

Waits said candidates had been informed physicals would be given Aug. 20. However, for reasons beyond the control of the football staff, the exam date was changed to Monday.

The Vikings' coach said grid hopefuls who could not make the Monday date would be able to pick up physical cards Aug. 20 and be examined by a physician of their own choice. Equipment will be handed out at that time.

Playing for the first time in the South Suburban League, the Vikings open the season against Olentangy Sept. 11. They play four non-conference games before tangling with league foe Pleasant View, a former South Central Ohio member.

HERE is the complete Viking varsity schedule.

Shoe Finals Slated at Fairgrounds

Pairings for the Pickaway County Horseshoe tournament have been announced by officials Ray Goodman and Dick Robbins.

The first of the pitchoffs is slated tonight at 6 when Pete Arledge, Gene White, Clyde O'Dell, Bernard Morais and George Weller vie for the Class C title.

At 5 p. m. tomorrow, Art Wilkes, Ray Goodman, Joe Moore, Walter Koch, Fenton Brown and Warren Grover battle for the Class B championship.

The featured Class A section will pit the best in the county beginning 8 p. m. tomorrow.

Seeking the coveted championship crown will be John Wilkes, Harold Wippel, Bill Jones, Chet Peters, Walter Rase and Malcolm Rathburn. Wilkes is the defending champ in this class.

Elorde Tagged Fighter of Month

NEW YORK (AP) — Flash Elorde, the junior lightweight champion from Manila, was named Fighter of the Month today by Ring Magazine. Nigeria's Dick Tiger, the former midweight champion, was a close second.

Elorde was picked for stopping Japan's Teruo Kosaka in the 12th round of the seventh defense of the 130-pound division title. Tiger looked extremely good in stopping Puerto Rican Jose Gonzalez in the sixth round of his first bout since he lost the crown to Joey Giardello.

Mosquito Stars Slated

Bears, All-Stars Tangle Tonight

CHICAGO (AP) — Uncertainty hangs over both rivals in the 31st All-Star football game which sends a team in mourning, the Chicago Bears, against a team capped by injuries, the College All-Stars, in Soldier Field tonight.

The champion Bears of the National Football League are pegged a two-touchdown choice in a contest that will draw an estimated 70,000 and be televised and broadcast nationally (ABC beginning at 9 p. m., EST).

Fair and cool weather is predicted.

For the Bears, the uncertainty rests in what manner they may react under pressure after a training season blighted by the auto crash deaths 13 days ago of teammates Willie Galimore and John Farrington.

The Bears have dedicated the 1964 season to both men.

Redlegs Get 15 Hits To Clout Braves

CINCINNATI (AP) — If the Cincinnati Reds keep hitting the way they did last night, they may win the National League pennant yet.

The third-place Reds clouted five Milwaukee hurlers for 15 hits and beat the Braves, 9-3, to give them three games out of four.

Now the second - place San Francisco Giants are coming to town for three games. The Giants have won nine of 12 games between the clubs so far this year.

"We'll have to do something about that," Reds manager Fred Hutchinson said Thursday night, planning ahead.

"I'll try it with Jim Maloney on the mound in the first game."

Maloney, now 10-9, has a 1-1 record against the Giants this season. His probable opponent is Bob Hendley, 9-6, who did not fare too well in his sole start against the Reds on June 15.

Power-hitting by the Reds' big three—Deron Johnson, Vada Pinson and Frank Robinson—did the trick Thursday night. Between them, that trio got eight of the 15 hits and drove in five runs.

Twins, Tribe Set For Double Bill

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Minnesota Twins have the mighty Harmon Killebrew and a lineup studded with home run sluggers, but the Cleveland Indians carry a 6-3 season edge over the Twins going into their clash in a doubleheader here tonight.

Jack Kralick, a former member of the Twins, and rookie Luis Tiant are expected to pitch for Cleveland against Jim Kaat and former Indian Dick Stigman.

Kralick pitched a brilliant three-hitter for seven innings the last time the clubs met and Cleveland came out on top, 8-1. Don McMillan finished the game holding the Twins hitless.

Marine Sergeant Wins National Pistol Title

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP) — Marine Staff Sgt. Richard C. Van Cott of Quantico, Va., won the 45-caliber slow fire pistol match at the national pistol and rifle matches Thursday with a 196.06. Another Marine, Sgt. Francis A. Higginson of Quantico, was second with 196.04.

For the 50-man collegiate squad, the uncertainty involves the apparent loss of one of their prime threats, the passing of quarterback George Mira of Miami, Fla. Mira's reinjured throwing arm will be a question mark until just before the opening whistle.

Coach Otto Graham, fielding his seventh All-Star team, has two other capable quarterbacks in Southern California's Pete Beathard and Boston College's Jack Concannon.

But Mira was regarded the All-Stars' best bet for a scampering, long-bombing game-breaker of the same pattern as Wisconsin's Ron VanderKelen.

Bears, All-Stars Tangle Tonight

CHICAGO (AP) — Uncertainty hangs over both rivals in the 31st All-Star football game which sends a team in mourning, the Chicago Bears, against a team sapped by injuries, the College All-Stars, in Soldier Field tonight.

The champion Bears of the National Football League are pegged a two-touchdown choice in a contest that will draw an estimated 70,000 and be televised and broadcast nationally (ABC beginning at 9 p. m., EST).

Fair and cool weather is predicted.

For the Bears, the uncertainty rests in what manner they may react under pressure after a training season blighted by the auto crash deaths 13 days ago of teammates Willie Galimore and John Farrington.

The Bears have dedicated the 1964 season to both men.

For the 50-man collegiate squad, the uncertainty involves the apparent loss of one of their prime threats, the passing of quarterback George Mira of Miami, Fla. Mira's reinjured throwing arm will be a question mark until just before the opening whistle.

Coach Otto Graham, fielding his seventh All-Star team, has two other capable quarterbacks in Southern California's Pete Beathard and Boston College's Jack Concannon.

But Mira was regarded the All-Stars' best bet for a scrambling, long-bombing game-breaker of the same pattern as Wisconsin's Ron VanderKelen, who passed the All-Stars to a stunning 20-17 upset of the Green Bay Packers last year.

Mira sustained a recurrence of a muscle strain in his right arm during a Wednesday night drill and how much service he sees will depend on a pre-kick-off test of his pitching wing.

Mira took heat treatments Thursday and reported a little soreness was still in his arm.

NFL champions hold a 19-9 victory edge, with two ties played, in this big harbinger of the 1964 football season which is sponsored by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

Beathard, Concannon and perhaps Mira are expected to loose

a heavy aerial bombardment against the NFL's best pass defenders, including a sticky-fingered quartet of bandits composed of Bennie McRae, Dave Whitesell, Richie Petitbon and Roosevelt Taylor.

Matador Is Gored In Spanish Fight

MALAGA, Spain (AP) — Paco Camino, a leading Spanish matador, was gored and seriously injured in a bullfight Thursday.

He suffered a six-inch wound in the abdomen while performing with the muleta, or red cape, against his first bull.

RED-WHITE AND BLUE—Soviet horse fans look over Apex Hanover, the five-year-old trotter that won the first race the United States has entered in Moscow in a quarter century. The winner crossed the finish line to the cheers of Russian bettors, many of who had wagered on the capitalist trotter. Owner Roy Cleveland picked up $5,500 in prize money. (Radiophoto)

'Greatest Sports Thrill'

First Game in NFL Competition
Is Recalled by Browns' Founder

By PAUL E. BROWN
(For The Associated Press)
The biggest single thrill I ever got out of my coaching career
was the first game the Cleveland Browns played in the National Football League.
We had won the championships in the All-America Conference for the four years of its existence. Finally, upon its failure, we were admitted to the National League.
As far as I was concerned,
this pleased me. I was weary of the problems from within that eventually wrecked the All-America Conference.
Commissioner Bert Bell of the National League made the playing schedule for that organization, and the members of the league approved. There is no doubt what they had in mind when they matched us with the National League champions, the Philadelphia Eagles, in the 1950 opener.
I'm sure they envisioned a big game—but I'm just as certain they didn't foresee what was to happen to the Eagles!
It was a big crowd, all right.
Some 80,000 fans turned out at Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium to see the test.
And were we ready?
I want to be the first to admit that the psychological advantage were all with our team. For almost five years we had been taunted and degraded about the quality of our football.
The former commissioner of the National League told us to "go get a football" when a playoff game was suggested. Our desire had been whetted by about five years of waiting and frustration.
Our team reached the highest emotional point I have ever seen a team attain. I told our staff that I hoped we could get them
on the field before they exploded.
For about two years we, as a staff, had been thinking about this game. We scouted the Eagles whenever possible. We talked about them and unconsciously began to make plans for them. When time would permit we would try little experiments during practice.
This was especially true
against the so-called "Eagle defense." We found, for example, that we could gradually widen our offensive line spacing which created a difficult situation for their five-man spacing without a middle linebacker. I'm sure some of these experiments hastened the obsolescence of the "Eagle defense."
The final score of the game
was 35 to 10 in favor of Cleveland.
We also scored several other times, but had them called back for over-zealous play. Our blocking on punt returns and other open field work was the most vicious I have ever seen. This is where the willingness to pay
the price really shows up.
One incident illustrates the state of mind of our men.
Dante Lavelli, our great offensive end, caught a scoring pass from Otto Graham as he ran under the goal posts—about a foot from one of them. He was looking backwards at the time,
taking in the pass.
I said to him later:
"Dante, did you know how close you came to running into that goal post while looking behind you?"
I'll never forget the vehemence in his voice as he replied:
"Coach, I didn't care where that goal post was!"
I think I should point out that this Cleveland Browns team was a couple of years past its apex when this game was played.
Maybe the taunts and jibes
over the years just served to heighten the peak which these veterans were able to reach.
Today I am a National League. I think I know what must have gone through the minds of this organization.
I know one thing—we paid for it for years! We were somebody's Big Game, week after week. Of course, we won championships, and to point for the champion was only natural. In our particular case, I think it came easy.
However, this still doesn't take away from me the satisfaction that went with our efforts on this memorable night.
I must say, that on this occasion, this was the greatest football team I have ever seen.

Best Fishing In Lake Erie, Ohio Streams

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Best fishing in the state in the coming weekend should be found in streams and in Lake Erie, the Ohio Division of Wildlife reported today. Most waters are clear and normal but there have been few anglers, wildlife fieldmen say.

The situation by districts:

Northwest—Lakes and ponds are most productive with bass, bluegills and bullheads being taken.

Northeast—best fishing in the state was reported where fair to good catches are being made. Walleyes are being caught at Berlin and Tappan reservoirs. Largemouth bass and bluegills are being taken at the lakes.

Southeast — Fishing is fair. Muskies are being taken regularly at Piedmont Reservoir. Other catches reported include crappies, catfish, bluegills and bass.

Southwest—Fishing is spotty in this corner of the state, ranging from poor to good. Good stream fishing for smallmouth is reported. Anglers are taking carp, catfish, bluegills and bass in that order.

Sandusky Bay and Lake Erie —outlook is fair with walleyes being taken at Hen Island, Niagara Reef and Ruggles Beach. Generally anglers are catching perch, catfish, white bass, sheepshead and a few smallmouth.

Turf racing will be stressed during the current Monmouth Park meeting at Oceanport, N. J.

Best Fishing In Lake Erie, Ohio Streams
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Best fishing in the state in the coming week end should be found in streams and in Lake Erie, the Ohio Division of Wildlife reported today. Most waters are clear and normal but there have been few anglers, wild-life fieldmen say.
The situation by districts:
Central—Fair to poor fishing and light fishing pressure is reported from this district. A few stream are yielding bass and bluegills and catfish are being taken at the lakes.
Northwest—Lakes and ponds are most productive with bass, bluegills and bullheads being taken.
Northeast—best fishing in the state was reported where fair to good catches are being made. Walleyes are being caught at Berlin and Tappan reservoirs. Largemouth bass and bluegills are being taken at the lakes.
Southeast — Fishing is fair. Muskies are being taken regularly at Piedmont Reservoir. Other catches reported include crappies, catfish, bluegills and bass.
Southwest—Fishing is spotty in this corner of the state, ranging from poor to good. Good stream fishing for smallmouth is reported. Anglers are taking carp, catfish, bluegills and bass in that order.
Sandusky Bay and Lake Erie —outlook is fair with walleyes being taken at Hen Island, Niagara Reef and Ruggles Beach. Generally anglers are catching perch, catfish, white bass, sheepshead and a few small-mouth.
Turf racing will be stressed during the current Monmouth Park meeting at Oceanport, N. J.

Cincinnati Klan Chieftain Held in Cross-Burning

CINCINNATI (AP)—Clarence Brandenburg, described as leader of the Ku Klux Klan in the Cincinnati area, faced a hearing in Municipal Court today on two misdemeanor charges.

The 48-year-old appliance shop operator in suburban Arlington Heights was arrested Thursday on two warrants signed by Hamilton County Judge Paul Gilday. Officials believe Brandenburg was connected with a cross burning by about 15 hooded Klansmen on June 28.

The warrants charge Brand-

berg with criminal syndicalism and with violating an Ohio law saying that "no persons shall unite with two or more others to commit a misdemeanor while wearing white caps, masks or other disguises."

Brandenburg denied he had anything to do with the cross-burning, but readily admitted his Klan membership to newsmen.

"I am an Imperial officer in the national KKK and proud of it," he said. He was freed after posting $2,500 bond on each charge.

Cincinnati and suburban police said they found a red hood with eye holes, three loaded weapons and Klan and right-wing literature in a search of Brandenburg's home and his Valley Teletronics shop. They also said they found a list of alleged Klan members in the area.

Brandenburg blamed his arrest on "Jewism and Communism" and also said he thought William F. Miller, founder of the Cincinnati-based National Association for the Advancement of White People, was responsible.

Miller and Brandenburg quarreled last year about the formation of a NAAWP chapter in suburban Reading and Brandenburg left the organization. Brandenburg declared after his arrest that Miller could not be accepted in the Klan because of his liberal views.

The NAAWP leader said Thursday night he had not talked to Brandenburg for three months and knew nothing of events leading to the arrest. He compared the Klan with the Black Muslims and said "both should be put out of business."

Proper Use Of Chemicals Is Explained

The addition of chemicals to coagulated sewage at the city disposal plant is for treatment of waste discharged into the Scioto River, according to Roy Hawks, chief operator at the facility.

Hawks' explanation is contrary to a report this week that the chemicals were used as part of a study to control odors. He said the chemicals are being used solely for treatment purposes.

However, he pointed out that odor prevalent in the disposal plant vicinity earlier this summer has been greatly curtailed. The chief operator attributed this to the decreased amount of waste now being handled from the local Container Corporation plant.

Hawks said the obnoxious smell usually is noticeable when large amounts of waste are pumped to lagoon beds just south of the disposal plant. The odor is most frequent during hot, humid conditions or after light rains.

Hawks said other studies are being conducted at the disposal plant to decrease odors arising from the lagoon beds.

Reed Wins Gain Contest

Shorthorn Steer Adds
3.6 Pounds Daily

Terry Reed's big shorthorn steer won the 4-H rate of gain contest, it was announced yesterday by George Hamrick, extension agent.

During the junior fair fat cattle sale last night, Reed was presented with a trophy by Dudley Carpenter of J. W. Eshelman and Sons.

The steer weighed 615 pounds on Jan. 4, the day the contest began. By fair time, Reed's animal tipped the scales at 1,385 pounds, having put on an average daily gain of 3.632 pounds.

A Herford steer fed by David Schein, last year's winner, was second in the contest. It weighed 530 pounds when the contest began and went 1,140 pounds when brought to the fair. It gained a total of 610 pounds for an average daily gain of 2.877.

A newly instituted feature of the junior fair, the rate of gain contest has come to be one of the coveted awards.

Jobless Rate Drops

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment dropped to 4.9 per cent in July and total employment rose to 72.4 million. That's the first time the jobless rate has been below 5 per cent since February 1960. And it's the first time ever employment has been as high as 72 million.

GENTLE CARE — It takes more than just keeping feed in front of a steer to produce the champion rate of gain winner. Terry Reed added an ample measure of gentle care and watchfulness. His shorthorn steer gained 3.6 pounds per day to win the trophy presented by J. W. Eshelman and Sons.

Antipoverty Vote Near

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson faces one of his biggest legislative tests today as the House puts his $947.5-million antipoverty bill up for a vote.

Republicans, who have branded it an "election-year gimmick," are almost solidly against it, leaving Southern Democrats holding the key to Johnson's success.

Several hours of debate were scheduled before the vote

comes, probably late in the afternoon.

House leaders predicted a narrow victory. But one administration source said he was afraid the bill would lose by 40 or more votes.

The bill would commit the federal government to the task of trying to break the cycle of poverty that has kept some families on the relief rolls for as long as three generations.

Republicans have praised the goal of the legislation, but say it is poorly drawn and would fall far short of its sponsors' hopes. The bill combines in one package a number of programs designed "to mobilize the human and financial resources of the nation to combat poverty in the United States."

Another major provision authorizes $340 million for grants to stimulate community action projects designed to combat poverty.

Cincinnati Klan Chieftain Held in Cross-Burning

CINCINNATI (AP)—Clarence Brandenburg, described as leader of the Ku Klux Klan in the Cincinnati area, faced a hearing in Municipal Court today on two misdemeanor charges.

The 48-year-old appliance shop operator in suburban Arlington Heights was arrested Thursday on two warrants signed by Hamilton County Judge Paul Gilday. Officials believe Brandenburg was connected with a cross burning by about 15 hooded Klansmen on June 28.

The warrants charge Branden-

Proper Use Of Chemicals Is Explained

The addition of chemicals to coagulated sewage at the city disposal plant is for treatment of waste discharged into the Scioto River, according to Roy Hawks, chief operator at the facility.

Hawks' explanation is contrary to a report this week that the chemicals were used as part of a study to control odors. He said the chemicals are being used solely for treatment purposes.

However, he pointed out that odor prevalent in the disposal plant vicinity earlier this summer has been greatly curtailed. The chief operator attributed this to the decreased amount of waste now being handled from the local Container Corporation plant.

Hawks said the obnoxious smell usually is noticeable when large amounts of waste are pumped to lagoon beds just south of the disposal plant. The odor is most frequent during hot, humid conditions or after light rains.

THE WASTE disposal problem here is being aided by the installation of a chemical recovery system at the Container plant, designed to eliminate stream pollution problems caused by "black liquor" wastes brought about by wood pulping processes.

CAMP SWONEKY BOUND — These children departed early today for Camp Swoneky, near old Ft. Ancient, where they will enjoy a 10-day outing as guests of the local Salvation Army organization. David Edwards is in charge of the project. Transportation was provided by the Salvation Army and the local Red Cross, two agencies benefitted by the Pickaway County Community Fund. The children are, front row left: Nancy Collet, La Rue Collet, Linda Castle, Patricia Smallwood, Ruth Crago, Cassandra Fout. Back row — John Murphy, Larry Boltenhouse, Henry Clay Sheets, John Hunt, Charles Lowery, James Vinson and Russell Gilmore.

Antipoverty Vote Near

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson faces one of his biggest legislative tests today as the House puts his $947.5-million antipoverty bill up for a vote.

Republicans, who have branded it an "election-year gimmick," are almost solidly against it, leaving Southern Democrats holding the key to Johnson's success.

Several hours of debate were scheduled before the vote

comes, probably late in the afternoon.

House leaders predicted a narrow victory. But one administration source said he was afraid the bill would lose by 40 or more votes.

The bill would commit the federal government to the task of trying to break the cycle of poverty that has kept some families on the relief rolls for as long as three generations.

Republicans have praised the goal of the legislation, but say it is poorly drawn and would fall far short of its sponsors' hopes.

The bill combines in one package a number of programs designed "to mobilize the human and financial resources of the nation to combat poverty in the United States."

A major section authorizes $412.5 million for various youth programs.

Another major provision authorizes $340 million for grants to stimulate community action projects designed to combat poverty.
